YEAR OF CONSECRATED LIFE: A WEEKEND OF INSPIRATION

CONGRATULATIONS TO THOSE DEDICATING THEMSELVES TO OUR LORD IN RELIGIOUS LIFE! МНОГАЯ ЛІТА!

This Weekend we are experiencing a truly wonderful experience within our Archeparchy as four young people give their lives wholly and unconditionally to our Lord and His Church. On Friday, Brother EUMIR

Bautista ↑ made his first Profession (Vows) as a member of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer (Redemptorists). On Saturday morning, Sister CHARLENE Belay↑ made her Perpetual Profession ("Final Vows") as a member of the Sisters Servants of Mary Immaculate. Today, at the Cooks Creek Grotto-Shrine, Two Sisters, Sister ORESTA Svorak and Sister EMILY Schietzsch↓ make their Temporary Profession (the next time they make their vows, it too will be the final time they do so for life!). We are inspired by them! We pray that they will not only remain faithful to their commitments, but that the Lord will receive their vows and richly bless them and - through them - all of the Church. We also raise up our prayers to heaven that many more people will receive the grace and courage to join them on their journey of Consecrated Life in what ever order, monastery, congregation may appeal to them.

The present Canon Law of the Church, in its 410th canon, beautifully expresses the nature of "Religious" (i.e. monastic or consecrated) life of one kind or another. It reads....

..."The religious state is a stable mode of common life in an institute (i.e. religious order or monastery) approved by the Church, in which the Christian faithful, by more closely following Christ, the teacher and exemplar of holiness, under the action of the Holy Spirit, totally dedicate themselves by a new and special title through public vows of obedience, chastity and poverty, observed according to the norms of the statutes under a lawful superior, they renounce the world and totally dedicate themselves to the acquisition of perfect charity in service to the Kingdom of God for the building up of the Church and the salvation of the world as a sign of the foretelling of heavenly glory." (WOW! Where do you get that!?)

MIGHT THE LORD BE CALLING YOU TO THE CONSECRATED LIFE?

7 Practical Tips for Discernment

The following are a few points that one might follow during the discernment process.

(Adapted from: www.religious-vocation.com)

1. Take action. Religious communities welcome discerning guests to stay with them. Make arrangements to visit certain communities for a short period of time (perhaps 4-6 days). They will provide you with food, shelter, water, shower, bathroom – in short, everything you need. All you need to bring is yourself, changes of clothes, and perhaps some work clothes.
2. Repeat #1. If a man were to approach marriage in the same way that some people approach discerning religious life, then he would remain single all his life. He might read books about relationships, or research dating on the internet, but would never actually spend time with the woman he is to court, to get to know her personality, to see whether she is to be his future wife. In much the same way, discerning religious life requires more than reading or conducting research on the internet. The more exposure one has to religious communities, the better position they will be in to make an informed decision. At the very least, a person should grant the same amount of exposure to discerning a religious vocation, as was granted to past relationships. In the mean time, by pursuing this higher calling and making visits to various communities, a soul will begin to grow in ways that it could not have otherwise. The time spent visiting religious communities, if even a few days at a time, will be of great benefit to the soul, both for its discernment and well-being.
3. Consecrate yourself to the Mary the Mother of God, and ask Her to take you under Her maternal of care. Saints have stated that a soul that is a devoted child of Mary, is a soul that can easily and quickly attain the highest degrees of perfection possible. Ask the Virgin Mary to lead you on the path that brings the greatest glory to her Son. And do not be surprised when She does. Do not be surprised if, after having continually asked for this grace, you wake up one day and find your heart burning with a new love for Her, eager to respond to Her gentle request; "Will you follow My Son?"
4. Avoid relationships with those of the opposite gender, and all other potential distractions. At the very least, give primacy of place to time spent discerning religious or monastic life. Give the respect due to the higher calling. If God wants you to be married, then He will send the right person in due time, and you can be sure that it was His will, and not your own.
5. Frequent the Sacraments. Go to confession often, and attend the Divine Liturgy daily if possible. Also, if possible, spend an hour in Eucharistic Adoration daily before the Blessed Sacrament (it is possible). It is unimaginable how many graces God grants a soul through Eucharistic Adoration. It is also important to find a competent spiritual director, if possible. Do not trust your feelings, but allow God to direct you under the direction of a wise and learned priest, preferably one who has experience in religious life or ample training in mystical theology.
6. Try to live the religious life while you are still in the world. Wake up early and spend some time in prayer or spiritual reading. Mortify yourself at meals (fast or abstain), stop watching TV. Before going to bed, spend time in prayer and make an examination of conscience for your actions for the day. Fast on bread and water on Fridays. Try to remain recollected while you work. All these examples will help be a test of your vocation.
7. Remember that there is no commitment. Even if you were to formally enter a community as a postulant, you do not take perpetual vows until 3-6 years into religious life or more. The postulancy and novitiate periods are considered times of ongoing discernment, and a person is free to leave at any point if they feel God calling them elsewhere. The bottom line is - what is God's Will for you!?
