Sunday of Meat-fare

19 Лютого 2017 р.

MEATFARE SUNDAY & CHEESEFARE WEEK

Traditionally the week leading up to this Sunday is the last week when the Faithful would consume or use any meat or meat-related products until Easter Sunday. During the week ahead, traditionally, we would use up the last of any dairy products again until Easter. That's one of the reasons why the Easter basket is so lovingly prepared with the best quality foods... so when we sit down to Easter morning breakfast - it's a wonderful feast rich in symbols, theology and flavour! Well, then, what would we eat? A wide variety of vegetables, grains, bread, vegetable oils, coffee, teas, etc. Its really not as impossible as we might first imagine. It is even along the lines of some of the most touted body cleanse or body detox methods in our day. I think we would survive quite well. However, the Church does of course offer exceptions - quite a few actually - for individuals that should be careful about overdoing it (hard workers, the elderly, vehicle operators, etc.) and for people that should not risk overdoing it (the infirm, young children, etc.). Fridays remain a fast day, as they do throughout the year, as well as the strict fast of the first day of Lent and Good Friday. We fast to do penance for ourselves and the society in which we live and to remove from our lives truly unnecessary distractions that weigh us down and make us sluggish on our spiritual journey....
