

Immaculate Conception

"The liturgical tradition of the Church magnifies the most holy, most pure, most blessed and glorious Lady and God-bearing One as being "more honourable than the cherubim and more glorious than the seraphim. "The cherubim are the highest angelic order. The Church extols her "holy birth ... and her immaculate conception. By her purity and her being immaculate the Theotokos surpasses all visible and invisible creation. Nonetheless, at the same time, she belongs to the human race spread forth from Adam and gathered in the Son of God." Catechism of The Ukrainian Catholic Church "Christ our Pascha" p. 69.

With the decree Ineffabilis Deus [Ineffable God] (December 8, 1854), Pope Pius IX promulgated the dogma of the Immaculate Conception of the most-pure Virgin Mary. "The most blessed Virgin Mary was, from the first moment of her conception, by a singular grace and privilege of Almighty God and by virtue of the merits of Jesus Christ, Savior of the human race, preserved immune from all stain of original sin." (Denziger 2803; also Catechism of the Catholic Church, 491).
