

Come together, Come to the Light!

A little effort will go a long way.... this seemingly small gesture will make a big difference in our parish...

Please consider this and let's just do it! Pope Francis challenges us to go to the peripheries to seek out God's children and make them welcome in our Parishes. The Lord Himself through, His Gospel way of life, challenges us to never get settled into "comfort zones" where we run the risk of becoming complacent and simply languish....Sure, we all have our routines and we like our "favorite place". We also aren't that big on change. But...what about when a change or a move will be of benefit to us and to those around us?. Here is a little change that can make a big difference in the way we pray together and the way we come together and help each other as a parish family - as a generous parish family that welcomes others. So often we scatter ourselves throughout the far corners of the church and we can hardly pray together! It is difficult to coordinate singers that sit far from Dave and from each other... When we are scattered far and wide it is impossible to look over and see what page everyone is on. And it is difficult to help the person - maybe a visitor - over there who can't find the right page. Besides, isn't sitting far away a manifestation that we aren't striving to be as close as we should be in a parish community? If one feels that this isn't a big deal, well, then... just do it. If I'm always feeling like the tax-collector and need to be at the back of the church, well, maybe its time to get over it and get back with the Lord. He surely has great things for me to do. If I like to catch up on gossip in the back or in a corner, well, maybe its time to take that outside and when in church, come to the front. It's far to go to the front? Well, most come forward for Communion anyway, so why not just come at the beginning of the Liturgy? Come to the front to be close to the Lord and be together with our brothers and sisters in the Faith. Do this for your parish! It is important. It will make a big difference. Let's come together, Let's come into the light!

Beginning a new Century with hope and effort!
