Let us pray for one another at this time—for our family members, for our fellow parishioners, for our doctors and nurses that care for our bodies and our clergy that care for our souls. Let us also pray for those countless people infected or who have died and for their families that are worried or grieving. There are people in New York, Italy, Vancouver, Ukraine and Iran that are as worried as we are and suffering much more. We will never meet them in this life, but they will benefit greatly by our prayer! (we certainly have time!)
