WEEKLY PARISH BULLETIN - AND... COVID-19 PANDEMIC UPDATE - NO. 59

HAPPY AND BLESSED FATHER'S DAY!

Dad, Тато, Ete, Dede, Tatay... we are proud of you and we love you!

SAINT JOSEPH.... ROLE MODEL FOR TODAY'S FATHERS?

HUSBAND AND FATHER Joseph's example of giving himself heart and soul through his life and work to God, and through God to Mary and Jesus, defines what being a loving husband and father involves. At the heart of the household of Nazareth was Mary, the beloved wife of Joseph and Mother of Jesus. Observing that God had joined them together in a real marriage, Pope Leo XIII wrote "When God gave Joseph as husband to the virgin, he gave him a companion in life, a witness to her maidenhood, a guardian of her honour." Going back to Nazareth with Joseph, teaches us what family life is, a sacred institution of the Creator and a foundation for Church and society. "Let us learn from Nazareth that the formation received at home is gentle and irreplaceable," observed Pope Paul VI on his memorable visit there. To Joseph was entrusted the task of fostering the human growth of Jesus, "in wisdom, age and grace." "We must recognise," writes Pope St John Paul II, "that Joseph showed Jesus by a special gift from heaven, all the natural love, all the affectionate solicitude that a father's heart can know" (No. 8). At the heart of Joseph's "fatherhood" was the total gift of himself to Mary and her Son, using his time and talents at the service of the Messiah growing up by his side in his home. In return, Jesus "was obedient to them" (Lk. 2:51), respectfully returning the affection of his "parents."

SILENT AND HIDDEN Two other "lessons" we learn from the spirituality of Joseph at Nazareth are silence and work. First, the lesson of silence. Not one word of Joseph is recorded. Sacred scripture speaks only of what Joseph "did": "by their fruits you shall know them." Humble, silent fidelity to Jesus Christ and his Blessed Mother is the mark of Joseph. The hiddenness of Joseph encourages us to seek holiness of life through the ordinary events of daily life. "St. Joseph is the model of those humble ones that Christianity raises up to great destinies," observed Pope Paul VI "He is the proof that in order to be a good and genuine follower of Christ, there is no need of great things – it is enough to have the common, simple and human virtues, but they must be true and authentic." For this reason, the Church encourages husbands and fathers to imitate Joseph's domestic virtues: industriousness, listening, patience and sacrifice, detachment from material possessions, purity of heart and faithfulness to grace.

ROOM FOR GOD At Nazareth, in this school of the Gospel, Joseph helps us to understand the life of Jesus and the need to develop and deepen our spiritual life. Raising the mind and heart to God through prayer and work requires moments of stillness in the hustle and bustle of family life. Noise and distraction are the hallmarks of the marketplace and TV culture; silence and the tranquility of order are the marks of the presence of God. Peace and quiet in ourselves and our surroundings are necessary if we are to recreate the atmosphere of Nazareth in our homes. Obviously, laughter and the carefree playfulness of children in the home are a great blessing. But in order to leave 'room at the inn' for God in our homes, we need to understand the words of the Psalmist: 'Be still and know that I am God.' A quiet, disciplined lifestyle helps us to see the need for simplicity, for the humility of spirit, for detachment from material things. In this way we learn to treasure what is of true value in God's eyes.

MEANING OF WORK Then there is the lesson of work. Following in the footsteps of Joseph helps us to appreciate the personal meaning of work. Nazareth, home of the 'Carpenter's Son,' restores our awareness of the nobility of work, Pope Paul said. "Work cannot be an end in itself," he declared, "its freedom and its excellence derive, over and above its economic worth, from the value of those for whose sake it is undertaken." When work is undertaken as an expression of love for our family, it fosters personal development and maturity; it promotes health of body and mind and deepens our capacity to love, by drawing the family closer together. It is as if Joseph is appealing to us through St. Paul: "I appeal to you to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship."

Joseph, Guardian of Jesus, accompany us all with the constant protection. Bless every family in the name of the Most Holy Trinity, Father, Son and Holy Spirit.
