20th Sunday after Pentecost, Tone 3

The Holy Martyrs Eulampius and Eulampia (305-13)

Troparia and Kontakia

Troparion, Tone 3: Let the heavens be glad, let the earth rejoice,* for the Lord has done a mighty deed with His arm.* He trampled death by death. He became the first-born of the dead;* He saved us from the abyss of Hades* and granted great mercy to the world.

Glory be to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit.

Kontakion, Tone 3: You rose from the tomb, O compassionate Lord,* and led us out from the gates of death.* Today Adam exults and Eve rejoices,* and the prophets together with the patriarchs* unceasingly acclaim the divine might of Your power.

Now and for ever and ever. Amen.

Theotokion, Tone 3: Today the Virgin stands before us in the church* and together with the choirs of saints invisibly prays to God for us.* Angels are worshipping with hierarchs,* Apostles exult with prophets,* for the Mother of God prays in our behalf to the eternal God.

Prokeimenon, Tone 3

Sing to our God, sing; sing to our King, sing.

verse: Clap your hands, all you nations; shout unto God with the voice of joy. (Psalm 46:7,2)

Epistle - Galatians 1:11-19

Brethren, I make known to you that the gospel which was preached by me is not according to man. For I neither received it from man, nor was I taught it, but it came through the revelation of Jesus Christ. For you have heard of my former conduct in Judaism, how I persecuted the church of God beyond measure and tried to destroy it. And I advanced in Judaism beyond many of my contemporaries in my own nation, being more exceedingly zealous for the traditions of my fathers. But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb and called me through His grace, to reveal His Son in me, that I might preach Him among the Gentiles, I did not immediately confer with flesh and blood, nor did I go up to Jerusalem to those who were apostles before me; but I went to Arabia, and returned again to Damascus. Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and remained with him fifteen days. But I saw none of the other apostles except James, the Lord's brother.

Alleluia, Tone 3

verse: In You, O Lord, have I hoped that I may not be put to shame for ever.

verse: Be a protector unto me, O God, and a house of refuge to save me. (Psalm 30:2,3)

Gospel - Luke 7:11-16

At that time, the Lord went into a city called Nain; and many of His disciples went with Him, and a large crowd. And when He came near the gate of the city, behold, a dead man was being carried out, the only son of his mother; and she was a widow. And a large crowd from the city was with her. When the Lord saw her, He had compassion on her and said to her, "Do not weep." Then He came and touched the open coffin, and those who carried him stood still. And He said, "Young man, I say to you, arise." So he who was dead sat up and began to speak. And He presented him to his mother.

Then fear came upon all, and they glorified God, saying, "A great prophet has risen up among us"; and, "God has visited His people."

Communion Hymn

Praise the Lord from the heavens;* praise Him in the highest.* Alleluia, alleluia,* alleluia. (Psalm 148:1)

Archeparchial Directive 13 for COVID-19

Prot. H/91/2021

4 October 2021

Glory be to Jesus Christ! Слава Ісусу Христу!

To the Reverend Clergy and all the Faithful of the Archearchy of Winnipeg:

We find ourselves already in the 19th month of the coronavirus pandemic and it is obvious that the end is not yet visible on the horizon. As your Archbishop I have been taking in all available information and new health orders to offer guidance for our Faithful throughout our parishes. It is important that these directives be seen as the authoritative norm for the spiritual good and physical safety within our Archearchy.

Let Us Keep Our Focus on Christ

The first thing that we must do is lift up our hearts and souls to the Lord and hear His words: “Take heart, it is I; have no fear” (Matthew 14:27). The Lord is with us—even in the most troubling of times—and we need to renew this faith within us and share it with all those around us.

The second thing that we need to do is to renew within ourselves and within our parish communities a clear understanding of those most basic Commandments of the Lord, i.e., love of God and love of neighbour (Matthew 22:37-39). We who should be recognized by the love and respect that we show toward each other, [1] need to double down on our efforts to be charitable toward everyone with in our communities and beyond. Our discussions and interactions with one another must be guided not by our personal fears or by a narrative suggested by outside sources, but by realistic concerns and our faith. The teachings of the Gospel message of Christ and the teachings of His mystical body, the Church, must be the primary source for our responding to any movement or crisis in society.

In the past, we have written at length about the basic safety protocols. Now again, weighing the concerns raised by our provincial government authorities, we have once again made adjustments to such matters as the number of individuals that may gather at our parish facilities as well as what functions may or may not be permitted at this time.

Staying United in Our Effort to Live Our Faith in the Midst of the Pandemic

One of the reasons for issuing this latest directive is that some clergy and other faithful have asked for some guidance as media speculation about possible new waves and variants heightens our concern. There has also been some inquiry as to how the most recent public health order, which significantly mentions faith-based gatherings,[2] may affect life in our parishes.

Our many directives and clarifications since March of 2020 have been crucial in assessing all governmental advisories and media information to formulate for ourselves the best norms for our Archearchy.

These directives will allow our communities to maintain an active parish life while keeping our faithful safe and adhering to those provisions of our provincial health authorities that may pertain to us. We hope that our parish priests together with their parish councils will strive to implement a strategy that will allow for maximum participation of all the faithful. Christian charity and a renewed dedication to the goals of the Church will help in any deliberations and planning.

Revisions to the Directives

At this time, I ask that:

1. For all Liturgical, Sacramental and other prayer services associated with our parishes, the maximum number of participants will respect the most recent Manitoba Public Health Order of 33% of the capacity of the church or facility.[3]
2. For the time being, we will continue to make a distinction for weddings, funerals, and baptisms. In these cases, for both the ritual aspect in church and any fellowship reception in a different parish facility, the participation should be limited to 25 persons.[4]
3. Some record of contact tracing information should be gathered and maintained for at least two weeks after the event. This is confidential information for use if ever some health concern arises in connection with the congregation being exposed in some way to the coronavirus. If it becomes problematic to have a designated person(s) at the entrance, then a voluntary sign-up sheet may be used that will include the name, surname and telephone number of each individual attending the event.

4. Although one will not be asked if they are vaccinated or to produce some sort of proof, it must be understood that any individual will not attend a service or parish function if:
 - they are experiencing any Covid-like symptoms;
 - they have been in close contact with a confirmed case of COVID-19;
 - they have travelled outside of the province in the last two weeks;[5]
 - they have submitted for a test and are awaiting the result.
5. Masks should be worn at all times for parish liturgical events or other parish functions[6] and sanitizer is to be easily accessible around the church or facility and its use should be encouraged. Social Distancing should be maintained at all times and extended social gathering cannot happen at this time.[7] Appropriate sanitizing of the church/facility should be done following an event according to the manner of how the facility was used and the number of participants.
6. Singing, being essential to the religious practice of our faith, is permitted, but preferably with only one or two singers that are appropriately socially distanced from the other congregants. If a party of singers are from the same household and sing at their own microphone, they may be considered as “one.” Other people in the congregation may sing along albeit quietly and while wearing their masks. Parishes that want to restart their choirs should formulate a plan that would respect the typical COVID-19 protocols and submit the plan to the Chancery for prior review.
7. Our clergy are asked, if it is feasible and if it would prove beneficial for the faithful, to consider adding an additional Sunday service to accommodate all the faithful that desire to attend in person while not exceeding the recommended number of participants.
8. The dispensation from the obligation[8] to participate in-person at Sunday and Feast Day liturgies will continue for those members of our faith that are sincerely concerned that attending in-person may put their health or the health of loved ones at risk. All the faithful are reminded that we are all bound to fulfil our obligations to our Lord and His Church by participating, at least, in livestreaming liturgies and supporting our parish in its needs.

9. Non-parish functions and events will be subject to the standing rules occasionally revised by government Public Health Orders as pertaining to public gatherings. This would include groups or individuals that rent or otherwise are granted the use of parish facilities for a function that is not directly connected to the life and mission of the parish and its organizations (e.g., banquets, cultural groups, wedding receptions, fundraisers, etc.)

I ask that Pastors and parish Administrators in collaboration with their Parish Pastoral Councils always approach the ever-shifting restrictions with calm, goodwill and true Christian kindness. The Church has experienced times much more challenging than these current times. We always want to attend to the Lord’s mandate to share the faith with all those around us.[9] These circumstances give us an opportunity to shine with the virtues of faith, hope and love—the example that our society desperately needs at this time. If we do not forget our vocation as followers of Christ and if we strive to adhere to common sense in all matters and strive to exhibit love of God and Neighbour throughout all adversity, we will truly shine through these difficult times.

Know that you are constantly in my prayer. I know that we will all travel through this difficult period together by trusting in our Lord and by keeping our focus on our role in the mission of Christ’s Church and by fulfilling that role as best we can.

Sincerely in Christ,

Most Rev. Lawrence Huculak OSBM, Metropolitan

[2] Government of Manitoba, Province Steps Up Preparedness for COVID-19 Fourth Wave, Moves to Restricted (Orange) Level on Pandemic Response System (1 October 2021)

[3] This number would not include the essential staff or children under 12 years of age. By general calculation, this would mean that a church with a 100-person capacity could host 33 people, if 200, then 66, if 300, then 99, etc.

[4] This number would not include the liturgical staff or funeral home staff or children under 12 years of age.

[5] The Provincial regulations do make some exceptions in Self Isolation Exemptions.

[6] This would include events like meetings, religious education sessions, and including some occasions where refreshments and food are offered in a safe manner as a direct part of the parish event.

[7] For example, chatting outside the church for longer than 10 minutes (see COVID-19 Screening Questions, B. 1, September 2021).
